

CALL FOR PAPERS
The Coastal Society
12th International Conference

October 21-24, 1990
St. Anthony Hotel
San Antonio, Texas

" OUR COASTAL EXPERIENCE -- ASSESSING THE PAST, CONFRONTING THE FUTURE "

The Coastal Society International Conferences bring together coastal professionals from a wide variety of disciplines to examine and discuss important issues in coastal resource use and management.

TCS 12 will feature critical assessments of the policies, techniques, and knowledge that have shaped efforts to manage activities on our coasts over the past 25 years. Thoughtful consideration of what has worked and what hasn't can provide a basis for what must be done to preserve and protect coastal resources in the future.

The Society invites abstracts of papers which address the themes of the Conference. Topics include, but are not limited to:

- | | |
|---|--|
| * States and Coastal Management | * Impact of Technology on Coastal Management |
| * Critical Evaluation of Laws / Policies | * Coastal Habitat Issues |
| * Citizen Participation | * Emerging Needs in CZM: Policy, Science, Technology |
